The Board of Lincoln County Commissioners met at 9:00 a.m. on February 6, 2024. Chairman Steve Burgess, Commissioners Wayne Ewing and Doug Stone, County Administrator Jacob Piper, and Clerk of the Board Corinne Lengel attended. County Attorney Stan Kimble and Limon Leader reporter Stephanie Zwick attended until noon. Scott Simonds with Mountain View Electric Association and Mark Hall with Southeast Colorado Power were there when the meeting started.

Chairman Burgess called the meeting to order and asked Mrs. Lengel to lead the Pledge of Allegiance. He then asked Mr. Ewing to say a short prayer.

Mr. Stone moved to approve the January 30, 2024, meeting minutes. Mr. Ewing seconded the motion, which carried unanimously.

The Board reviewed the employee timesheets for the administrator, land use administrator, landfill manager, weed control coordinator, emergency manager, IT Director, and Public Health Director.

Mr. Ewing moved to approve a county credit card with a $500 spending limit for DHS caseworker Tawnia Coleman. Mr. Stone seconded the motion, which carried unanimously.

Mr. Ewing moved to approve a $937.04 Colorado Parks and Wildlife Impact Assistance Grant Application. Mr. Stone seconded the motion, which carried unanimously.

Mr. Stone moved to appoint Ryan Clark to the Bookmobile Board to replace Cherry Stogsdill. Mr. Ewing seconded the motion, which carried unanimously.

Darren Fox with KC Electric Association arrived at 9:10 a.m.

Mr. Ewing spoke with Emergency Manager Ken Stroud on January 31 about acknowledged work in District 2 and the worksheet for District 1's County Road 3C. On February 1, Mr. Ewing spoke with Chris Monks about the proposed work on County Road 3C and flood damages to County Road 2W. He also checked roads, talked to a resident about silt damage to their field, and spoke with Limon trustee John Chittenden about town board business. Mr. Ewing talked to County Assessor Jeremiah Higgins and Amy Vice about landowners and HB24-1029. Mr. Ewing reported it rained and snowed on February 3, and he spoke with Chris Monks about snow removal, but it turned out they didn't need it. Mr. Ewing talked to Representative Brandi Brandley about HB24-1029 on February 4. On February 5, Mr. Ewing talked to Mr. Stone about moisture and their Thursday meeting. He also spoke with Chris Monks about the County Road 3C worksheet and what tubes would work best if another heavy rain occurred.

Mr. Stone reported talking to Judd Kravig on February 2; the power take-off quit on the International tractor, so they took it to Burlington. Mr. Stone spoke with Ken Stroud and Mr. Burgess about the FEMA projects and checked roads. He checked several District 3 roads after the rain on February 3 and talked to Mr. Kravig on the Fourth and Fifth. District 3 crew members were grading roads and working on equipment.

Land Use Administrator Ty Stogsdill arrived at 9:15 a.m.

Mr. Burgess reported talking to Dave Dobbs after the January 30 meeting about the clerk's counter project and asked him to contact Mrs. Lengel. All three commissioners had lunch at the hospital that day. On January 31, Mr. Burgess and Bruce Walters looked at roads and gravel in a landowner's field. He contacted the party and asked that someone be there when the county removed it. Ken Stroud called Mr. Burgess and Mr. Walters to request the scope of work and itemized costs to repair the low water crossings in District 2. Mr. Stroud sent the spreadsheets for the FEMA payment, but they didn't include the cost for Mack trucks to pull the belly dump trailers. Mr. Stroud promised to contact the FEMA representatives and let them know. Mr. Burgess said the cost estimate listed a lowboy trailer at $26.29 per hour and a tandem axle truck at $16.57 per hour. Mr. Burgess reported the road crew hauled material to the yard and graded roads on February 1. Mr. Stroud called about a FEMA meeting the following day, and the Administrative Assistant called him about a credit card charge. Mr. Burgess worked on the scope of work for the low water crossings on County Roads 41 and 46. He took a copy to Bart O'Dwyer for cost estimates. Mr. Walters looked for pins on the O'Dwyer pit to transfer it from the county. On February 2, Mr. Burgess, Mr. Piper, and Mr. Stroud had a phone call with FEMA reps; they increased the District 2 amount by $48,000. They also discussed securing the funding and a meeting at County Road 3C with Homeland Security on February 6. Mr. Burgess reported getting two to three inches of snow on February 3. He met with Bart O'Dwyer on February 4 to discuss the County Road 41 and County Road 46 low water crossings, and Mr. O'Dwyer promised to put some numbers together. Mr. Stroud called to ask when the county built its roads but had no better answer than at its formation. He had a call asking if he knew who was running for the District 2 commissioner seat. Allen Chubbuck called about the steel pile at the landfill and the best method of picking it up.

Mr. Kimble reported receiving an email from Extension Agent Emily Baylie about the fair book. She would know more in March, and he would draft a contract then. Mr. Stone asked if she'd gotten a bid from the Limon Leader, but Mrs. Zwick didn't know.

Mr. Kimble researched state statutes regarding counties requiring bids for projects. He noted municipalities customarily don't unless they are over $50,000. CRS 24-92-103, Construction of Public Projects, uses the term "may require bids" when referring to public projects that do not receive federal funds. If requesting bids, the publication would require the project description and all applicable terms and conditions. It must appear in a local publication or an administration-approved electronic format for fourteen days before the bid opening. Mr. Piper noted the county had a policy within the grant policy that didn't specify a dollar amount. He said there was likely a standalone bidding policy, too.

Mrs. Lengel noted that any project receiving federal grant funds would require the bid process, so the commissioners would have to follow those procedures if she applied for HAVA funds (Help America Vote Act) for the counter-replacement project. Mr. Burgess wondered how they would comply with the statutory obligations requiring a project description.

At 9:29 a.m., Mr. Burgess opened the public hearing to establish a minimum height for transmission lines that cross county rights-of-way. No one else attended the hearing, which Mrs. Lengel recorded. The recording will remain on file in the County Clerk's vault for the statutory ninety days.

Mr. Kimble summarized previous discussions that farmers could no longer safely transport or use their equipment under utility transmission lines because of their height. Manufacturers continue to make equipment bigger and better, causing issues with above-ground utility lines. He and Mr. Stogsdill met with representatives from the three electric companies to find a solution, and they agreed to raise the lines to 21' when replacing five or more poles at a time, which was about a quarter mile.

Mr. Hall stated they were distribution lines, not transmission lines, and apologized for not catching the wording when reading the resolution.

Mr. Ewing asked what the transmission line height was, and Mr. Hall said it depended on the voltage, but most were higher than 21'. He added they would replace lines at 21' in their day-to-day operations, but if someone had a car accident in the middle of the night that wiped out a power pole, they would replace the pole, get the power back on, and clean up the crash site.

Mr. Ewing moved to adopt a resolution establishing a minimum height for distribution lines crossing county rights-of-way upon amending the verbiage from transmission lines to distribution lines. Mr. Stone seconded the motion, which carried unanimously.

RESOLUTION #1113 It was moved by Commissioner Ewing and seconded by Commissioner Stone to adopt the following resolution:

A RESOLUTION TO ESTABLISH A MINIMUM HEIGHT FOR DISTRIBUTION LINES THAT CROSS OVER COUNTY RIGHT OF WAYS

WHEREAS, Lincoln County is a Colorado County endowed with certain statutory authority and powers to be exercised through its Board of Commissioners, hereinafter referred to as the “Board”; and

WHEREAS, Colorado Revised Statutes 30-11-101(1)(h) gives to each organized county within the state the authority to lay out, alter, or discontinue any road running into or through the county and also to perform such other duties respecting roads as may be required by law, including the use of non-county entities of the county road right-of-way; and

WHEREAS, the non-county uses of county rights of way are junior to those uses determined to be of public importance by the County; and

WHEREAS, the Board is aware that the height and size of farm implements and other agricultural equipment has become increasingly taller and larger over the years, threatening contact of the implements with the distribution line; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the minimum distribution line height over Lincoln County right of ways should reasonably be increased to twenty-one (21) feet.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of County Commissioners of Lincoln County:

Section 1.

DEFINITIONS. For purposes of this Ordinance, the following definitions shall apply:

- A. Minimum Vertical Clearance. The minimum vertical clearance is the minimum height of a distribution line, or overhead projection, over a roadway. Minimum vertical clearance shall apply to conductors at maximum final sag conditions with thickness of ice of 0.50 inches at Thirty-Two (32) degrees Fahrenheit, with no wind displacement, at One Hundred Twenty Degrees (120) degrees Fahrenheit, with no wind displacement, or maximum conductor temperature for which the line was designed to operate, whichever produces the largest final sag. Additionally, the minimum vertical clearance must be maintained at the point where the conductor is nearest the roadway or ground surface, taking both sag of the line and variations in ground surface elevation into account.
- B. New Construction. New construction shall mean the installation of poles (six or more poles in a one mile section) conductors, and other related equipment for the delivery of electricity, communications, or broadband.

Section 2.

As to all distribution lines, or other overhead lines which cross over a county right of way road, and which lines are installed for new construction, the minimum vertical clearance shall be at least twenty-one foot (21) from the line to the road surface. If the distribution lines are not for new construction, i.e., replacement of five poles, or less, in a one mile section, including conductors, and other related equipment, the height of the lines shall be the minimum vertical clearance that complies with the state and federal standards in effect at the time of the original construction or placement of the poles. All replacement of distribution lines which do not involve new construction shall be designated as a non-conforming use.

Upon roll call the vote was:

Commissioner Stone, Yes; Commissioner Ewing, Yes; Commissioner Burgess, Yes.

The Chairman declared the motion carried and so ordered.

Mr. Stogsdill returned and said Mr. Hall had mentioned in the hallway that they should also add communication lines to the resolution. If companies like Viaero wanted to lease the power poles and hang their wire, the recently adopted resolution wouldn't cover it. Mr. Kimble said adding it would require another hearing and resolution because the communications companies would have the right to speak at the hearing.

Mr. Stogsdill left, and Mr. Piper reported John Palmer spent $10,000 to fix the Fairgrounds tractor, and he only had $12,000 in his Repairs line item. District 1 sometimes uses the tractor, so Mr. Palmer wanted to know if Road & Bridge could share the repair cost.

Mr. Piper updated the Board on the Country Living Learning Center grant application and asked what the commissioners wanted to include for in-kind work. Mr. Burgess and Mr. Stone felt it meant leveling the parking lot and hauling gravel, but Mr. Burgess said they needed to consider digging the foundation and excavation for the crawl space. Mr. Stone asked if they had a construction start date, but Mr. Piper said it would take quite a while. He said they had applied for another grant and that it would cover a third of the cost if approved.

Mr. Stone felt Laura White wanted a dollar amount for the county's in-kind work, and Mr. Burgess asked if the county would have to supplement with cash if the work didn't reach the limit. He suggested $10,000, and Mr. Piper said they could include some of the admin labor costs if the dirt work didn't meet the maximum in-kind match.

Mr. Piper brought up a personnel issue, and Mr. Kimble said that since the employee worked in a county building, the commissioners had control of what policies the person had to follow. Mr. Piper noted the employee signed the county personnel policy, which included a section on the particular issue.

Mr. Piper informed the Board that the county could only spend FEMA funds on FEMA-approved projects, so if anyone had the idea they could use excess funds for something else, they couldn't.

At 10:30 a.m., Imogene White met with the Board to request an exemption from subdivision regulations for a 30.75-acre tract of land in the NW4 of Section 23, Township 7 South, Range 54 West of the Sixth P.M. Land Use Administrator Ty Stogsdill also attended and provided the mylar survey plat.

Mr. Stone moved to adopt a resolution allowing an exemption of subdivision regulations to Imogene White for property in the NW4 of Section 23, Township 7 South, Range 54 West of the Sixth P.M. Mr. Ewing seconded the motion, which carried unanimously. Mr. Burgess signed the survey plat, and Mrs. Lengel asked Ms. White to take it and the resolution to her office for recording.

A RESOLUTION BY THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF LINCOLN COUNTY, COLORADO, ACKNOWLEDGING THE CREATION OF AN APPROXIMATELY THIRTY AND THREE QUARTER (30.75) ACRE PARCEL OF REAL PROPERTY AND EXEMPTING THE PROPERTY FROM THE LINCOLN COUNTY SUBDIVISION REGULATIONS

WHEREAS, an application has been made by Imogene White from the Lincoln County Subdivision Regulations on a parcel of land, approximately thirty and seventy-five one hundredths (30.75) acres in size more or less, in Lincoln County described as follows:

A TRACT OF LAND SITUATED IN THE NORTHWEST QUARTER OF SECTION 23, TOWNSHIP 7 SOUTH, RANGE 54 WEST OF THE 6TH PRINCIPAL MERIDIAN, LINCOLN COUNTY, COLORADO, MORE PARTICULARLY DESCRIBED AS FOLLOWS:

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of County Commissioners of Lincoln County that the above described parcel be excluded from the provisions of the Lincoln County Subdivision Regulations so long as there is not a change in the present use of the property.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this exemption from the provisions of the Lincoln County Subdivision Regulations excludes any future division of the property without subsequent approval by the Board of County Commissioners.

Clerk of the Board

The Board determined that Kristen Jeffrey didn't need an exemption from subdivision regulations for the ten-acre lot she wanted to sell and agreed to reassess the subdivision regulations for instances such as hers.

Aaron and Onilee Kravig met with the Board at 10:45 a.m. to request an exemption from subdivision regulations to build a home on the NW4 of Section 28, Township 15 South, Range 55 West of the Sixth P.M.

Mr. Stogsdill noted that the couple's surveyor was supposed to email the PDF of the survey plat and wouldn't provide the mylar until the commissioners approved the resolution. Mr. Kimble said the resolution must include an accurate legal description from the survey plat, creating a catch-22 situation. The Board could approve the resolution but couldn't sign it until they'd confirmed that the legal description on the survey plat matched that on the document. Mr. Kravig said it didn't make sense that the county required a landowner to obtain an exemption from subdivision regs to build a house on their own property.

Mr. Burgess tried calling John Day, the Kravigs' surveyor, but got his voicemail and had to leave a message.

Mr. Kimble said subdivision regulations were created many years ago to ensure landowners had adequate services. Mrs. Kravig felt the county should pay for the surveys if required, but Mr. Kimble said it was the landowner's responsibility. He said the Board would meet again on February 16 and could sign the resolution then if they had the legal description. Mr. Piper said the commissioners had business until later in the afternoon if Mr. Kravig happened to receive the plat; they could sign the resolution before they left.

The Kravigs left, and Mr. Stogsdill informed the Board of a Land Use Board meeting on February 26, where they would discuss the Dunaway Solar Farm.

Mr. Burgess called for old business and asked the others if he should pursue buying a Kawasaki Mule for the landfill. They agreed, and Mr. Burgess said he'd try and trade in the old John Deere.

At 11:30 a.m., Mr. Burgess opened a public hearing regarding a $4,970.70 supplemental appropriation to the 2023 Public Health Agency Fund budget. No one else attended the hearing, which Mrs. Lengel recorded. The recording will remain on file in the County Clerk's vault for the statutory ninety days. Mr. Piper said he'd published the notice in the Limon Leader. The appropriation would make the total expenditure $614,048.70.

Mr. Stone moved to adopt a resolution authorizing a Supplementary Budget Appropriation to the Public Health Agency Fund 2023 budget. Mr. Ewing seconded the motion, which carried unanimously.

Clerk of the Board

Mr. Burgess called for old business and again brought up the clerk's counter-replacement project. He suggested having Robert Safranek do a scope of work, and Mr. Piper said Mr. Safranek would do one for the restroom project in the jury assembly room; he would have him go to the clerk's office also.

The only new business was a letter supporting the County Living Learning Center and child care services in Lincoln County. Mr. Burgess signed the letter.

The group took a lunch break, and at 1:00 p.m., Lincoln County Veterans Service Officer Joy Johnson met with the Board to discuss federal changes regarding CVSO job duties. She told the commissioners she discovered on January 26 that someone had canceled her accreditation. Mrs. Johnson called Glen Marciniak, who told her he couldn't comment. The state hired him as the claims specialist, but he is still the regional VSO and is not nearly as helpful as he was in the past. Mrs. Johnson emailed Kristy Cunningham, the southwest regional training officer, who responded that the cancelation came from the director, even though he'd wanted to give CVSOs until June 30 to meet the annual 1,000-hour requirement. Ms. Cunningham later emailed Mrs. Johnson to let her know that Division of Veterans Affairs Director David Callahan pulled accreditations for all CVSOs who did not meet the Code of Federal Regulations. The state and counties must abide by federal regulations, and Ms. Cunningham's email said there were two options for maintaining the annual 1,000 hours: be a part-time employee working twenty hours per week or work with a neighboring county such as Washington, which has been without a CVSO for over a year.

Mr. Stone asked if her not having accreditation meant the county wouldn't receive federal funding, but Mrs. Johnson wasn't sure. She commented that she'd just passed her annual recertification test.

Mr. Ewing sent a text message to Washington County Commissioner Gisele Jefferson, and Mr. Burgess called Lea Ann Laybourn, another Washington County Commissioner, but had to leave a message.

Mr. Piper asked Mrs. Johnson if she had to continue submitting the monthly certification of pay if the county signed a contract with her as a part-time employee, but Mrs. Johnson didn't know.

Mr. Burgess asked Mr. Piper to set up a conference or Zoom call on February 16 and invite CDVA Program Assistant Carissa Snyder and the Washington County commissioners. Mr. Ewing had received a text from Ms. Jefferson saying Washington County thought sharing a CVSO was a great idea.

Mr. Stone asked Mrs. Johnson if she was interested in working with another county, and Mrs. Johnson said she had no problems doing so but didn't think Lincoln County should have to pay her mileage. Mr. Piper told her they could discuss options with Washington County on the Sixteenth.

Mrs. Johnson left, and Mr. Piper asked the commissioners if they had time to call the Kiowa County commissioners about wind farms. Mr. Burgess made the call, and the Board answered several questions regarding emergency services, county impacts, employees, and expenses.

As the commissioners started approving the January 2024 expenses, Mr. Piper received a message that Aaron and Onilee Kravig's surveyor sent the PDF survey plat.

Mr. Stone moved to adopt a resolution allowing an exemption of subdivision regulations for Aaron and Onilee Kravig to build a home on the NW4 of Section 28, Township 15 South, Range 55 West of the Sixth P.M. Mr. Ewing seconded the motion, which carried unanimously.
